

Honoring Former and Retired Employees

On March 19th, the company held a ceremony honoring the former and retired employees in the presence of the DCEOs and a number of Managers and employees in the company, taking place at Bubyan Club.

CEO Mr. Mohammed Al-Farhoud, said in his speech on behalf of Mr. Ibrahim Al-Musaiteer, DCEO for Administration and Finance: "This honoring ceremony is for recognizing the significant roles that the former employees played during their career in the company, which gives a strong moral incentive to newly recruited employees to work hard, and we are confident that their efforts and dedication to their work will not be wasted but will be greatly appreciated by the company.

Al-Musaiteer explained that the company's achievements are not only proof of the dedication and commitment of its employees. However, the company is in the process of implementing its current strategic plan, thanks to the employees, which is aimed at expanding the petrochemicals industry worldwide. That is, for the company to maintain its leading position in this industry. As a matter of fact, the company has made great paces in its new projects, which are being implemented during the year 2017/2018.

Al-Musaiteer said that the human element is the cornerstone of the success of any organization. Therefore, the honoring of former employees and the end of their services in the company is a tribute to belonging and dedication to work. Through the performance of the company and its leadership as one of the best in the oil sector, and the achievement of the annual goals, we wish the company and the oil sector all development and prosperity.
